THE CINCINNATI

This Noted Patriotic Society Holds Biennial Session in May.

TOAST

TO WASHINGTON

Each Meeting Silent Tribute Is Paid First President-Gencral's Memory.

In May of this year there will be held in this city a general meeting of dele-gates of what may perhaps be termed in this city a general meeting of delegates of what may perhaps be termed the oldest and best known of all the patriotic societies in America. This meeting is known as the "Triennial Meeting of the Society of the Cincinnati," and it of the Society of the Cincinnati," and it will be attended by delegates from all the State societies. The last trionnial meeting was held at Hartford, Conn., in May, 1902, and it was then voted to meet the next time in the historic and hospithe next time in the historic and hospitable city beside the James.

When the war of the Revolution drew to its close, and General Washington was about to lay aside the sword and assume the duties of chief magistrate of the new republic, his officers gathered about him, and it was then proposed to organize a patriotic society from among the officers who had borne arms together against Receivant patrotte society who had berne arms together against England.

Concerning the formation of the society the words of another may be quoted:

This historic and patriotic Order of the Clincinnati was founded by the American and French officers at the cantonments of the Continental army, on the Hudson at the close of hostilities in the war of the Revolution for American independence, May 10, 1783.

In forming the society it was declared that, "to perpetuate, therefore, as well the remembrance of this vast event as the mutual friendships which have been formed under the pressure of common danger, and, in many instances, cemented by the blood of the parties, the officers of the American army do hereby, in the most solemn manner, associate, constitute and combine themselves into one society of friends, to endure as long as they shall endure, or any of their eldest male justerity, and in failure thereof the collateral branches who may be judged worthy off becoming its supporters and members."

members."

For convenience, thirteen State societies were formed, and one in France, under the direct patronage of Louis XVI. Upon the officer principle with a speared the names of all the great historic military and naval characters of the Revolution, and upon the roll of honorary members, elected for their own lives only, appeared of the signers of the Decinration of

pendence. he same writer is also quoted as to the t to membership and the formation right to membership and the formation of State societies:

The Right to Membership—All Continental officers who had served with honor and resigned after three years' service as officers, or who had been rendered supernumerary and honorably discharged, in one of the several reductions of the American army, or who had continued to the end of the war, and all French officers who fad served in the co-operating army under Count de Rochambeau, and held or attained the rank of colonel for such services, or who had commanded a French fice, or ship of war on the American coast, were entitled to become original members, and upon doing so were required to contribute a month's pay.

State Societies—The Cincinnati is originically one society in membership, but for convenience in admission of members and in its charitable and patriôle observice as subdivided into State societies.

for this new society was the Cincinnati, and the conception of the idea is readily traced upon the badges of the organization to-day. The badge is a golden eagle, with outspread wings, having on its breast a shield upon which is "Societiss Cincinnatorum Institutia 1781 A. D.," and on the reverse side of the badge appears a representation of Cincinnatus leaving the plow at the call of the Roman Senate, and above the shield is inscribed "Omnia Relinquit Servare Rempublicani."

As was mentioned above, it was the purpose of the originators of the Cincinnation form State societies, which should every third year meet together as one body. This is still done, and the programme observed is as a rule the same, namely The first two days are given up to the transaction of business of the society, and the third day occurs the banque of the transaction of business of the society, and the third day is set aside for a trip to some historic scene. The third day of this meeting will probably be spent visiting Yorktown. On the evening of the Cincinnati. The first toast of the evening is the most impressive, when the president-general arrises and says; "To the memory of His Excellency, General Goorge Washington, our first President General." The toast is drunk by the members in silence, standing, it may be of interest to mention in passing that Hon. Asa Bird Gardiner, president of the Rode Island Society, has in his possession the badge worn by General Washington.

Then it was recalled that a few days before Virginia Perdome, aged three years, had been enticed from her home by a negress, but had been recovered. Shortly after the colored settlement was watched, as it was a well known fact that several notorious witch doctors were practicing their rites in the community.

Nothing was discovered until November 28th, when the body of Zolla in a good state of preservation was found in a thicket near the Zuniga farm. An incision had been made between the ribs and the heart removed, presumably while the child was still alive.

A great cry went up from the people to send Judge Gonzales Landa, a famous criminal expert, to the scene of the crime to disentangle the mystery. Judge Landa, was appointed to investigate, and went at once to Guira. The result was the arrest of twelva persons of both sexes and the detention of 125 witnesses.

A large number of these poor sufferers who are thus exiled from home ble, asthma, broughtis or consumption, which can invariably be traced back to a severe cold. No one would neglect a cold could he foresee such a termination. To go to a warmer climate for one's health is expensive and seldom altogether satisfactory. The prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will save all this expense and worry. This remedy is widely known for its prompt cures of coughs and colds, and thousands have testified to the permanent relief they have received by its use. For sale by all druggists.

GLOUCESTER C. H., VA., March 25.—
The Gloucester Anti-Saloon League met at Gloucester Courtilouse on Monday with Mr. L. C. Catlett in the chair. Method the committee of the chair of the ensuing year, and at the same time an decutive committee numbering seventeen was elected.
The Gloucester Cicrical Association held its monthly meeting at the home of the Rev. W. B. Wyatt. The Rev. W. A. Groves read an interesting paper on the text; "Sinon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these?"

The Gloucester Literary Society held its fine meeting this year at Nurington, the home of Mr. L. C. Callett. In spite of a gathering storm and flashes of lightwing, a number of members of the society were present, who had the great pleasure of hearing a paper road on the 'Old Churches of Gloucester.' It was written by Judge Beverly Wellford at the earnest request of members of the organization, who were not disappointed in their expectation of enjoying a literary treat. On motion made by the Rev. W. E. Wyatt, a committee was appointed in their expectation of enjoying a literary treat. On motion made by the Rev. W. E.
